Nominating Speeches Are Inaugurated At Democratic Convention

NAME OF T. J. WALSH LOUDLY CHEERED

Permanent Democratic Chairman's Appearance Is Signal For Delegates to Give the Statesman An Ovation

DEMONSTRATION IS GREAT

After a Conference With the Party Leaders On the Platform, Senator Walsh Announced That Nomination of Candidates Were In Order

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 25.—The convention was called to order at 11:32 by temporary chairman Patrick Harrison. All delegations were represented at the time but there were absentees. The gallery was very sparsely seated, and, even in the floor section there were many vacancies.

Because of late arrivals, the appeals of Harrison were about deafened and many of the delegate leaders, such as Brennan were working among delegates far from their session and were slow in getting back.

"This convention must begin," shouted Harrison, 'the delegates must be seated." He then called Bishop Thomas F. Gailer of Tennessee to deliver the invocation and that brought quiet and order at 11 45.

When the name of Thomas J. Walsh of Montana was called, delegates rose in their seats and cheered Walsh appared before delegates in the midst of a great outburst of cheering.

Chairman Walsh finished his speech at 12 53, and immediately the delegates leaped to their feet and for the second time since Walsh took the platform started a parade of standards around the hall.

The demonstration lasted 15 minutes, and after a conference with party leaders on the platform, Walsh announced that nominations of candidates for the presidency were in order.

New York, June 25.—The first open clash on the Klan issue—now looming as the chief point of dissention in the Democratic convention—split the platform committee wide open today.

A band of anti-Klansmen served public notice that if the drafting committee did not denounce the Klan by name, a revolt would be staged on the floor of the convention and the committee would be repudiated.

This development featured the open hearings which were concluded early today after a long night session in which wrinkled sentiments were ironed out on practically all of the other important issues.

Executive sessions of the convention will be begun later in the morning and the platform may be ready for presentation to the convention body by night.

Congressman Harry B. Hawes, of Missouri, fired the opening shot when he issued a warning to the committee that if the Democratic convention did not take a firm stand against the Ku Klux Klan "the Democrats cannot carry a state north of the Mason-Dixon line."

"Missouri will roll up a 200,000 majority against us for the Republicans if you do not make yourself heard emphatically on this vital issue," Hawes said. "You can have your choice of denouncing the Klan in your report or forcing the convention to write a denunciation of the Klan into our report.

Right behind Hawes came Julius Aichele, of Denver, who presnted the Colorado Democratic state convention plank denouncing the Klan as "un-American and infamous."

"Adopt this plank now or we will present it on the convention floor and force every delegate to vote yes or no on the issue," Aichele said.

Then came Ed. H. Moore of Ohio, who cited the Republican convention for sidestepping the issue. He said:

Donora Not Freed From The Malady

Smallpox developed in the Joe Parris home in Donora yesterday, and it was again placed under strict quarantine. Russell McSwigan, colored, one of the boarders at the Parrish [illegible] had been under strict quarantine for some time as a contact.

McSwigan, after a doctor had diagnosed his illness as smallpox, was removed to the isolation camp near Palmer Park.

This is the third case of the malady to develop at the Parrish home. The health authorities will isolate all inmates of the house at the tent colony near the isolation camp and will close the dwelling in an ffort to stamp out the disease.

Nearly all the victims at the isolation camp have recovered and are about ready to be released from quarantine, but the discovery of the new case will cause more stringent regulations and a longer period of quarantine to be put in force at once by the Donora Board of Health.

PLAY GROUNDS FOR CHILDREN

Westminister and Hillcrest parks were officially opened at Monongahela yesterday morning, and will remain opened daily during the present season.

Westminster park in the Second ward, near Jackson street, in charge of Miss Martha Shanks opened with an attendance of 273 children. Westminster is the first park to be officially opened with all equipment in place. It consists of a wading pool with the bottom covered with sand for small children. The water is changed each day to insure its cleanliness. There are two sets of swings, two sets of see-saws, two slides and a giant slide, besides other esuipment. Volley ball, drills and many other games are already scheduled for the children by Director Shanks.

Hillcrest park so far has not received sufficient attention by the department of parks and public property, and although the funds for equipment is on hand, nothing has been done toward purchasing it. As it is at present, without sufficient grading, equipment cannot be placed at the park, which is located in East Main street. However 60 children were on hand yesterday morning when the park was opened in charge of Miss Hannah Watson. A pageant will be staged early in July in which the children from these two districts will take part under the direction of the Misses Shanks and Watson. There will also be regular swimming days as soon as arrangements can be completed for the necessary municipal beaches at the river. Both instructors are experienced swimmers and will have charge of the children while at the pools.

Gunman May Be From Mon City

Mrs. Marie Boyle, through the Monongahela police department, is investigating to determine if "Dapper Tommy" Boyle, notorious gangster, gunman and bandit of Philadelphia who was murdered Sunday, is her husband, who has been missing for several months.

Mrs. Boyle last received word from her husband who was at Philadelphia, six months ago, and since that time has instituted divorce proceedings. She became aware of the death of "Dapper Tommy" Boyle through a newspaper article. Mrs. Boyle told the police that her husband had lived in Atlantic City two years prior to making his home in Philadelphia.

Mrs Boyle and the police have reason to believe that Dapper Tommy" Boyle was formerly a resident of Monongahela and is the Monongahela woman's husband. A picture of Thomas Boyle, husband of Mrs. Boyle was secured and forwarded to Philadelphia police authorities in an effort to determine if the dead man was the husband of the woman named.

Canonsburg Man Forges Check At Uniontown--- Heat Is Held To Blame

To excessive heat is attributed the temporary derangement of S. E. Addis, aged 42, a wealthy farmer of Canonsburg, who was arrested at Uniontown yesterday on a charge of forgery on complaint of E. S. Areford a real estate man of Uniontown.

Addis was arrested at the Merchants and Miners bank, where he presented a check for $950, on which Areford's name appeared. His relatives in Canonsburg were communicated with and Addis was examined by a physician. The physician declared that Addis was suffering from a mental disorder brought on by the heat. He was discharged and taken home, where his condition was somewhat improved yesterday.

"A POLITICAL CUSS-WORD."

Under the above caption the New York Times discusses the word "reactionary" as applied to politics and reaches some surprising conclusions. Describing this word of long standing and use as "a convenient epithet," which has been "stealing for some years into the politician's vocabulary" "one of those vague, undefined, yet ominous-sounding terms, which political speakers and writers love," the Times goes on to say:

"If reactionary signifies looking backward, why may it not mean a longing for the golden age of American political life to return to these United States? In that case, the reactionary would be one who recalled the pristine virtues of the men whom President Harding liked to call "the founding fathers," and earnestly strives to reproduce them in our degenerate days. The language of offense would thus be a badge of praise, and would react upon those who scornfully ply it. They would be in the position of railing at the austere honesty of George Washington, the able and disinterested public service of Hamilton, the sublime faith in the people displayed by Jefferson. If those and other great leaders of the past were alive today, they would be reactionaries in a double sense."

To this extraordinary interpretation the Times adds the equally astonishing assertion that "not one man in a thousand" who employs the word reactionary "could say what it means." And yet we happen to find in a 34-year-old printing of Webster's unabridgd dictionary, under "Reaction (politics)" this plain definition: "Backward tendency or movement after revolution, reform or great progress in any direction;" and under "Reactionary" this equally clear definition: "One who seeks to undo political progress." From which it is evident that our fathers, and no doubt our grandfathers as well, understood a reactionary to be what sometimes since has been called a "standpatter," or one stubbornly opposed to political reform or progress even when widely recognized to be highly desirable.

In a word, reactionary is simply and clearly the autonym or opposite of progressive (employing the latter in a good sense), and it is now as it has ever been properly and correctly employed as a word of political reproach. If the "founding fathers" had been reactionaries in either a double or a single sense, the great Republic of North America would never have had a beginning, let alone developed as a powerful representative of true American ideals of human progress. The writer of "A Political Cuss-Word" knows how to wield a pen, but he is not as well informed as a man in his position ought to be.

PLAY AT WEST NEWTON TONIGHT—BEATTY WILL TWIRL FOR CHARLEROI

Charleroi meets West Newton, one of their most formidable rivals, at West Newton this afternoon, known as a twilight game, at 5:30 o'clock. Harry Beatty will pitch for Charleroi, but he will have a new receiver, as Red Gannon has failed to meet requirements; not so much, according to Manager D. Cleve Mathers, account of his weak stick work as because he is "slow on his feet." It is said that Gannon, who was formerly catcher for the Homewood Tresers, and received the offerings of Carl Stewart, was operated on this spring, which may have affected his work as a member of the Charleroi team. He telephoned Manager Mathers that he could not play at West Newton, and advised Mr. Mathers to secure another backstop.

According to information received, Manager Mathers is on the trail of a highclass second baseman and one or two outfielders, men who can hit. As a club the players have fielded well, but they have lacked the potential hitting strength to win victories. With exception of two or three games in which Beatty, the mainstay of the pitching staff, has appeared, he has twirled good ball, but the team has not hit consistently bhind him. This was noticeably apparent in games that we have seen. With inner and outer works strengthened and new cather who can hit, the club behind Beatty should win 75 percent of its games. Manager Mathers has carried Latriam as relief pitcher, and he has showed up well, when called upon, but lacks experience and a konwledge of the finer points of the game; he also has Hines, a rugged, good natured chap with a peculiar delivery, who may or may not, fool a batter. His pitching ability is to be proven.

In the game Saturday with Bellevue, Manager Mathers is anxious to win, and the fans can be assured he will have as strong a lineup as can be secured when play is called at the Charleroi Baseball park.

PIRATES WIN FINAL GAME FROM THE CINCINNATI REDS

Eppa Jepptha Rixey of the Reds came within less than two innings of reaching the coveted passageway into hitless fame yesterday afternoon when the Pirates suddenly took a brace and jolted their way to a 4-3 victory that gave them two out of three for the series.

The big Cincinnati southpaw had been faced by the Buccaneer batsmen exactly 28 times before any of the visitors succeeded in reaching the runways. Meanwhile the Redlegs had managed to bunch three singles in the sixth inning, which netted them a run, and it looked for all the world as if the Pittsburghers were doomed to a dose of kalsomine, when the gaunt collegian was solved, and after the first two batters had been ousted in the eighth the Buccos drove the run home which tied up the game.

The battring was continued in the ninth and Rixey was socked out of the box by a fusillade of four swats. Jakie May, the demon finisher, replaced him after two runs had been smashed across and the little left-hander did not allow a hit, but was unable to prevent another tally from being slipped over.

BERLENBACH WILL NOT BE ABLE TO MEET STRIBLING

Paul Berlenbach will not be able to go through with his bout with Young Stribling at the Yankee stadium, New York on Thursday night, it was reported yesterday to the boxing commission. Paul will not be able to start because the cut over his left eye, received last Friday night in his bout with K. O. Jaffe at Henderson's Bowl, had not responded to treatment as hoped for. The stitches have not yet been removed. Dr. W. G. Fralick gave final verdict on the injury yesterday afternoon.

Jimmy Slatery of Buffalo, who is the only boxer holding a decision over Stribling, is likely to substitute for Berlenbach. If not Slattery, Ad Stone of Philadelphia may get the match. Paul's chances of starting against S tribling have been doubtful ever since Friday night.

For a benefit show the National Sports Alliance's program at Henderson's Bowl was most disastrous. One champion, Johnny Dundee, was dethroned, thereby losing out on a later bout in which he was to have received $27,500, while Berlenbach was deprived for a paltry sum of the chance to rake in $15,000 for boxing Stribling.

GOLFERS TO GO TO McKEESPORT TO PLAY TODAY

Golf players from both Washington's Country Clubs—the Washington County Golf and Country club and the Nemacolin Country club—will participate in invitation tournaments with links devotees of neighboring clubs this afternoon.

The first-named club plays the Monongahela Valley club, while the players from the Nemacolin club will be at McKeesport, on a similar errand, on the invitation of the Youghiogheny Country club.

Nemacolin players met at the club house, near Beallsville, at noon and departed in motor cars for McKeesport.

The tournaments today are the first of a series that will keep local golfers busy throughout the week. On Friday the women of the Nemacolin club will entertain the women of the Uniontown Country club at an afternoon play following a luncheon at noon.

On Saturday the women of the Washington County Golf and Country club may entertain the Thornburg Country club players at an invitation dinner and tournament on the Washington links. The matches scheduled for last Saturday having been postponed. Next Tuesday the Nemacolin women will be the guests of the Youghiogheny Country club at McKeesport. One week from tomorrow the men of the Nemacolin club will go to Greensburg for a tournament with the Westmoreland Country club players.

If you have more room in your home than you need, a Mail Classified Ad. will rent it for you, quickly.

Pickups From The Diamond

Yesterday's hero—The whole Washington team—the Senators played brilliant baseball, beat New York 4-8 in ten innings, and vent into first place in the American [illegible]

Ferguson pitched well for the Red Sox, who batted in timely fashion against three Philadelphia pitchers and won 4-1.

The Braves broke up a pitching duel by scoring twice in the ninth and defeated the Phils 4-2.

Pittsburgh got to Eppa Rixey, who had been pitching no-man-reaching first ball up to the eighth, drove the veteran out of the box in the ninth and won from Cincinnati 4-3.

The Detroit Tigers dropped a double-headerin St. Louis and dropped from first to third place in the American League. Sisler returned to the game. The score 7-5, 5-1.

Timely hitting enabled the Giants to maintain their winning streak which now has reached ten straight. They overcame Brooklyn's lead and won 6-3.

NAME OF T. J. WALSH LOUDLY CHEERED

"If this commitee is so cowardly as to avoid mention of the Klan by name you will please the imperial Kleagle but you will lose votes."

Then a Wisconsin delegate attempted to force through the committee a motion which would have pledged states to the stand taken by their members of the commttee, but Chairman Homer Cummings ruled the motion out of order and the session closed in a furore of confusion.

Outside of the Klan there is little save the league of nations plank which is expected to cause the drafting committee any trouble.

Came Home to Die.

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to Mayr's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinl tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.

Insects Walk on Water

By virtue of their lightness, combined with a peculiar construction of the feet which keeps them from becoming wet, water spiders and a number of other insects are able to walk readily over sheets of water, supported by the surface tension of the latter. This tension acts practically the same as a stretched elastic membrane. It is sufficiently strong for these creatures, but it is practically negligible so far as heavier ones are concerned. So long as the feet and other portions of the bodies of water insects remain perfectly dry they are as safe on the surface of water as they would be on terra firma, but let them once get wet and this same membrane will quickly prove their undoing.—The Pathfinder.

Native African Language

The natives of Africa speak three languages—Negroid, Hottentot-Bushman and Hamitic. The Hamitic language, to which ancient Egyptian belonged, is spoken in northern Africa. The Hottentot-Bushman is spoken by the dwarf and pigmy tribes in the central part of the continent. The remainder of the natives speak what is known as the Negroid tongue. All these overlap one another and it cannot be said that all the tribes of central Africa speak any one language. These three languages represent many dialects and seem to be distinct from all other systems of speech. At least no close relation can be discovered between them and other languages.

Vendetta

A vendetta is a blood-feud; the practice of the nearest kin executing vengeance on the murderer of a relative. In Corsica the vendetta is regarded as a duty incumbent on the relatives of the murdered man, and, failing to reach the murderer, they take vengeance on his relatives. The practice exists also, though to a more limited extent, in Sicily, Sardinia and Calabria, as well as among the Druses, Circassians and Arabs.

Oldest Microscope

The oldest microscope on record is a lens of quartz found among the ruins of Nineveh, which is now in the British museum. During the Middle ages simple lenses were more and more used. A spectacle maker of Middleburg, Holland, was the first to build a compound microscope, which he constructed about 1590 for Charles Albert, archduke of Austria. Robert Hooke, secretary of the royal society, made various improvements.
